

2010 WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA JULY 16-18, 2010

Dear World Tang Soo Do members and families:

Our World Championships are always special and unique events because they give all of us in the World Tang Soo Do family the tremendous opportunity to gather in one place and engage in friendly and spirited competition, to make new friends (and see old friends) from all over the world, as we celebrate our commitment and dedication to the pursuit of our art. However, this year's 13th World Championship is an especially momentous occasion for our organization for two historic reasons. It is being held for the very first time in Greensboro, North Carolina – near the site of our future World Headquarters in Burlington, North Carolina – and it marks my elevation to 9th Dan. To commemorate this historic occasion, we will be holding a special family picnic on the actual grounds of our future headquarters.

As always, our World Championships are a testament to our core values as an Association. While our competition is spirited, it is the responsibility of each WTSDA member to exemplify the discipline and honor embodied by our dedication to Tang Soo Do. To that end, we will be following the rules as written in the WTSDA Rule Book, and all students must maintain the highest safety standards and be properly outfitted with regulation sparring gear, safety equipment, dobok, patches, and belt.

Because of the international nature of this event and this unique opportunity for all of us to convene as one, I strongly encourage all WTSDA members residing outside of the United States to complete their visa preparations as early as possible. Such processing may take more than 60 days, and in 2008, there were many applicants who began the process too late in the year and were not able to get their applications approved in time to attend. (If you require a formal invitation letter from the WTSDA for this process, you should contact us no later than February 28, 2010.)

Attached is all the information you will need to make preparations for joining us for this historic occasion. I very much look forward to seeing each one of you there.

Tang Soo!!

Jae C. Shin
President & Grandmaster
World Tang Soo Do Association, Inc.
